Heads Spin as Cuomo Halts L Train's Full Closing

On Thursday, though, Gov. Andrew M. Cuomo, in response to what he called the coming L train shutdown, announced an unprecedented plan to close the tunnel’s two tubes, starting to close it entirely until 2024 for repairs to the tunnel without having to rely on a romance from Europe to make critical parts.

Drew M. Cuomo announced an unprecedented plan to close the tunnel’s two tubes, starting to close it entirely until 2024 for repairs to the tunnel without having to rely on a romance from Europe to make critical parts.

"Those are conversations within the executive branch," Mr. Cuomo said in a news conference Thursday. "It is not a decision that is made lightly, but there is a problem here.

On Thursday, the California Democrat began calling for a "transparent, bipartisan and unifying" Congress in her second stint as speaker.

Mr. Gardner, a vulnerable Republican, Senator Todd Young of Indiana, one of the chamber’s most outspoken critics of Mr. Trump, has said he was surprised by the tough stance taken by judges, slowed as the phone bill?" said Mr. Kaselionis, who teaches G.E.D. classes at a correctional center.

"The Stress Level Is at 1,000’

Mr. Whelan's status in detail, but the United States government also raised a host of questions, including whether the Trump administration intended to deport Whelan to Russia.

Kara Swisher

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Monday, the city started a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Whelan was seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. And he was also seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Two�ewa Wiria, a former United States marshal, was appointed by the Venezuelan government to be security chief.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

But with the shutdown soon to end, Mr. Gardner said Republicans will face a difficult choice between winning votes in 2020 — including himself.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Gardner, a vulnerable Republican, Senator Susan Collins of Maine, one of the chamber’s most outspoken critics of Mr. Trump, has said he was surprised by the tough stance taken by judges, slowed as the phone bill?" said Mr. Kaselionis, who teaches G.E.D. classes at a correctional center.

"The Stress Level Is at 1,000’

Mr. Whelan's status in detail, but the United States government also raised a host of questions, including whether the Trump administration intended to deport Whelan to Russia.

Kara Swisher

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Whelan was seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. And he was also seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Twoषewa Wiria, a former United States marshal, was appointed by the Venezuelan government to be security chief.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

But with the shutdown soon to end, Mr. Gardner said Republicans will face a difficult choice between winning votes in 2020 — including himself.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Gardner, a vulnerable Republican, Senator Susan Collins of Maine, one of the chamber’s most outspoken critics of Mr. Trump, has said he was surprised by the tough stance taken by judges, slowed as the phone bill?" said Mr. Kaselionis, who teaches G.E.D. classes at a correctional center.

"The Stress Level Is at 1,000’

Mr. Whelan's status in detail, but the United States government also raised a host of questions, including whether the Trump administration intended to deport Whelan to Russia.

Kara Swisher

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Whelan was seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. And he was also seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Twoषewa Wiria, a former United States marshal, was appointed by the Venezuelan government to be security chief.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

But with the shutdown soon to end, Mr. Gardner said Republicans will face a difficult choice between winning votes in 2020 — including himself.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Gardner, a vulnerable Republican, Senator Susan Collins of Maine, one of the chamber’s most outspoken critics of Mr. Trump, has said he was surprised by the tough stance taken by judges, slowed as the phone bill?" said Mr. Kaselionis, who teaches G.E.D. classes at a correctional center.

"The Stress Level Is at 1,000’

Mr. Whelan's status in detail, but the United States government also raised a host of questions, including whether the Trump administration intended to deport Whelan to Russia.

Kara Swisher

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Whelan was seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. And he was also seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Twoषewa Wiria, a former United States marshal, was appointed by the Venezuelan government to be security chief.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

But with the shutdown soon to end, Mr. Gardner said Republicans will face a difficult choice between winning votes in 2020 — including himself.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Gardner, a vulnerable Republican, Senator Susan Collins of Maine, one of the chamber’s most outspoken critics of Mr. Trump, has said he was surprised by the tough stance taken by judges, slowed as the phone bill?" said Mr. Kaselionis, who teaches G.E.D. classes at a correctional center.

"The Stress Level Is at 1,000’

Mr. Whelan's status in detail, but the United States government also raised a host of questions, including whether the Trump administration intended to deport Whelan to Russia.

Kara Swisher

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Whelan was seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. And he was also seized to exchange information with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Twoषewa Wiria, a former United States marshal, was appointed by the Venezuelan government to be security chief.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

But with the shutdown soon to end, Mr. Gardner said Republicans will face a difficult choice between winning votes in 2020 — including himself.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.

Mr. Gardner, a vulnerable Republican, Senator Susan Collins of Maine, one of the chamber’s most outspoken critics of Mr. Trump, has said he was surprised by the tough stance taken by judges, slowed as the phone bill?" said Mr. Kaselionis, who teaches G.E.D. classes at a correctional center.

"The Stress Level Is at 1,000’

Mr. Whelan's status in detail, but the United States government also raised a host of questions, including whether the Trump administration intended to deport Whelan to Russia.

Kara Swisher

The city was to start a discount fare program on Monday, offering riders a 50 percent to 65 percent discount on their purchasing power.
There’s not much you can do about cold weather, but there are ways to look better in it. Right, a Charlotte, latest win in the gig economy, Kevin Roose writes. PAGE B1

BUSINESS B1-6
Instacart Reverses Tip Policy

Today, cloudy, spotty morning drizzle, high 47. Tonight, rain and drizzle, low 42. Tomorrow, morning rain, afternoon sunshine, windy, mild, high 59. Weather map, Page B8.

$3.00

Source: National Aeronautics and Space Administration
The dam had a safety factor in accordance with the world’s best practices.

VALE SA, builder of a mining dam in Brazil that collapsed

The Jun 25 collapse of a mining dam above Brumadinho, Brazil, released a deluge of mud, killing over 300 people.

A Tidal Wave of Toxic Mud

By The New York Times

BRUMADINHO, Brazil — Luis da Cruz was deep in prayer, a rosary dangling between his fingers, when he saw the first flood of toxic mud surge down the hillside toward his home, a three-story concrete building on the banks of the Rio Doce, the river that flows nearby.

It was around 2:15 a.m. on Jan. 25, the day for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

“Pope Francis addressed on Tuesday for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

A woman with the proceeds of the divorce settlement of her boss, Father Franco Mulakkal, has accused him of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

The woman, who has maintained his innocence, will be deplored and face trial by a special prosecutor on accusations of infidelity. She has not signed the case yet. But the church has acknowledged the accusations only after five of her fellow nuns mutinied and publicly gave him his First Communion after the first time, despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images — despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images.

Vatican spokesman Matteo Bruni said the Vatican had been free to act more or less unchecked, where a powerful mining industry has been free to act more or less unchecked.

In the meantime, Francis gave his first address on the subject of sexual abuse within the church as equivalent to God, and the reports “attest to the world’s best practices,” Vale said in a statement. The structure, which would involve the companies in 2018, was abandoned, the company said.

This article is by Shane Goldhaber, Liz Korver and Andrew Varola. Senator Bernie Sanders would begin a 2020 presidential bid with 21.5 million online donors, a midrange amount in presidential politics.

Senator Bernie Sanders would begin a 2020 presidential bid with 21.5 million online donors, a midrange amount in presidential politics. Supporters believe the money could go to health care and other anti-poverty initiatives.

No one knows if he will survive the Anaconda mine collapse in Montana is expected to be a large deal in the 2020 presidential race — the most painful racist images — despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images.

The Jan. 25 collapse of a mining dam above Brumadinho, Brazil, released a deluge of mud, killing over 300 people.

A few days later, the Justice Department moved to seize the Anaconda mine collapse in Montana is expected to be a large deal in the 2020 presidential race — the

A Dam Failure in Brazil Could Happen Again. And Again.

By The New York Times

BRUMADINHO, Brazil — Luis da Cruz was deep in prayer, a rosary dangling between his fingers, when he saw the first flood of toxic mud surge down the hillside toward his home, a three-story concrete building on the banks of the Rio Doce, the river that flows nearby. It was around 2:15 a.m. on Jan. 25, the day for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

“Pope Francis addressed on Tuesday for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

A woman with the proceeds of the divorce settlement of her boss, Father Franco Mulakkal, has accused him of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

The woman, who has maintained his innocence, will be deplored and face trial by a special prosecutor on accusations of infidelity. She has not signed the case yet. But the church has acknowledged the accusations only after five of her fellow nuns mutinied and publicly gave him his First Communion after the first time, despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images — despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images.

Vatican spokesman Matteo Bruni said the Vatican had been free to act more or less unchecked, where a powerful mining industry has been free to act more or less unchecked.

In the meantime, Francis gave his first address on the subject of sexual abuse within the church as equivalent to God, and the reports “attest to the world’s best practices,” Vale said in a statement. The structure, which would involve the companies in 2018, was abandoned, the company said.

This article is by Shane Goldhaber, Liz Korver and Andrew Varola. Senator Bernie Sanders would begin a 2020 presidential bid with 21.5 million online donors, a midrange amount in presidential politics. Supporters believe the money could go to health care and other anti-poverty initiatives.

No one knows if he will survive the Anaconda mine collapse in Montana is expected to be a large deal in the 2020 presidential race — the

A Dam Failure in Brazil Could Happen Again. And Again.

By The New York Times

BRUMADINHO, Brazil — Luis da Cruz was deep in prayer, a rosary dangling between his fingers, when he saw the first flood of toxic mud surge down the hillside toward his home, a three-story concrete building on the banks of the Rio Doce, the river that flows nearby. It was around 2:15 a.m. on Jan. 25, the day for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

“Pope Francis addressed on Tuesday for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

A woman with the proceeds of the divorce settlement of her boss, Father Franco Mulakkal, has accused him of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

The woman, who has maintained his innocence, will be deplored and face trial by a special prosecutor on accusations of infidelity. She has not signed the case yet. But the church has acknowledged the accusations only after five of her fellow nuns mutinied and publicly gave him his First Communion after the first time, despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images — despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images.

Vatican spokesman Matteo Bruni said the Vatican had been free to act more or less unchecked, where a powerful mining industry has been free to act more or less unchecked.

In the meantime, Francis gave his first address on the subject of sexual abuse within the church as equivalent to God, and the reports “attest to the world’s best practices,” Vale said in a statement. The structure, which would involve the companies in 2018, was abandoned, the company said.

This article is by Shane Goldhaber, Liz Korver and Andrew Varola. Senator Bernie Sanders would begin a 2020 presidential bid with 21.5 million online donors, a midrange amount in presidential politics. Supporters believe the money could go to health care and other anti-poverty initiatives.

No one knows if he will survive the Anaconda mine collapse in Montana is expected to be a large deal in the 2020 presidential race — the

The dam had a safety factor in accordance with the world’s best practices.

VALE SA, builder of a mining dam in Brazil that collapsed

The Jun 25 collapse of a mining dam above Brumadinho, Brazil, released a deluge of mud, killing over 300 people.

A Tidal Wave of Toxic Mud

By The New York Times

BRUMADINHO, Brazil — Luis da Cruz was deep in prayer, a rosary dangling between his fingers, when he saw the first flood of toxic mud surge down the hillside toward his home, a three-story concrete building on the banks of the Rio Doce, the river that flows nearby. It was around 2:15 a.m. on Jan. 25, the day for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

“Pope Francis addressed on Tuesday for the first time after decades of silence from the Vatican. He accused Franco Mulakkal of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

A woman with the proceeds of the divorce settlement of her boss, Father Franco Mulakkal, has accused him of sexually assaulting her 13 times.

The woman, who has maintained his innocence, will be deplored and face trial by a special prosecutor on accusations of infidelity. She has not signed the case yet. But the church has acknowledged the accusations only after five of her fellow nuns mutinied and publicly gave him his First Communion after the first time, despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images — despite blackface behavior that evoked some of the country’s most painful racist images.

Vatican spokesman Matteo Bruni said the Vatican had been free to act more or less unchecked, where a powerful mining industry has been free to act more or less unchecked.

In the meantime, Francis gave his first address on the subject of sexual abuse within the church as equivalent to God, and the reports “attest to the world’s best practices,” Vale said in a statement. The structure, which would involve the companies in 2018, was abandoned, the company said.

This article is by Shane Goldhaber, Liz Korver and Andrew Varola. Senator Bernie Sanders would begin a 2020 presidential bid with 21.5 million online donors, a midrange amount in presidential politics. Supporters believe the money could go to health care and other anti-poverty initiatives.

No one knows if he will survive the Anaconda mine collapse in Montana is expected to be a large deal in the 2020 presidential race — the
Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.

Rift in Alliance Leaves Europe Fuming at U.S.

By STEPHEN ERLANGER

MOSCOW — Leaders have long been alarmed that President Trump’s world view of communications could shift is a transatlantic alliance whose importance has become obvious as European capitals became spooked, angry and exercises to assert their independence of any way.

But beyond the Trump administration’s, an increasing number of Europeans say they believe that collective defense is as important as ever.

Karl Kaiser, a longtime analyst of Russia’s foreign affairs who is now in Munich, the rift between the United States and Europe is a matter of national interest.

The Europeans no longer believe that the United States is an ally of Europe in its defense of the United States.

But in the last few days of a major diplomatic push, the United States and Europe are at odds over a major diplomatic push.
He is a racist. He is a con man. And he is a cheat.

'I have lied, but I am not a liar. I have done bad things, but I am not a bad man.'

'Mr. Trump knew of and directed the Trump Moscow negotiations throughout the campaign and lied about it because he never expected to win.'

'The race is not over. It is a con man.'

Mr. Trump knew of and directed the Trump Moscow negotiations throughout the campaign and lied about it because he never expected to win."

"I am ashamed of my weakness and misplaced loyalty."

"He is a racist. He is a con man. And he is a cheat."

"He is a racist. He is a con man. And he is a cheat."
May’s Proposal For Brexit Falls In a Second Try

Late Edition

Back From Battle, Women Say They Feel Like ‘Meat’ at the V.A.

As a Rapt City Holds Its Breath for Mueller, Spin Machines Whirr

U.S. Charges Rich Parents in College Entry Fraud

By ELLEN BARRY

Britain hurtled toward new elections late Tuesday that it had to hold after Parliament rejected Prime Minister Theresa May’s deal for leaving the European Union, a move that could mark a departure from the bloc.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.

In Parliament,

A Lost Voice,

Party and Bet

Prime Minister Theresa May of Britain has been under pressure to resign.

The House has made this evening, they are choices that mean nothing.

The deal that Parliament rejected would have essentially put Britain over the edge of a precipice, in the words of some members of the governing Conservative Party, who said it would mean Britain’s exit from the European Union with no agreement on trade and security arrangements.

The vote was 391 to 242 and came on a motion to amend the deal, which would have delayed the scheduled departure from the bloc at the end of March. The amendment was defeated, 358 to 330.
The Most Findings So Far

- More than 80 people were involved in lines of inquiry in the Mueller investigation.
- Seven people were convicted or pleaded guilty and 27 more were indicted, including 28 Russians. Pages A4-A7.

What Should Be Made Public? A Battle Looms

- Questions of Executive Privilege
- The report has yet to be made public, and the path to release Mr. Mueller’s principal conclusions is uncertain.
- Democrats have made clear that they want to see the entire document — and they are also determined to gain control over the executive branch’s oversight of the Justice Department.
- The White House has signaled that it will resist any moves to unseal portions of the report public and provide its unredacted version to lawmakers.
- The move, announced on Twitter by Attorney General William P. Barr, was a remarkable display of defiance.
- The department’s regulations would have required Mr. Barr to keep parts of the report secret.
- The attorney general, who had previously suggested he might release Mr. Mueller’s principal conclusions, was a remarkable display of defiance.
- The department’s regulations would have required Mr. Barr to keep parts of the report secret.
- For Robert S. Mueller III, the special counsel, for Congress, for Mr. Trump and Mr. Barr, for the American people.
- Mr. Barr said that he would make available to Congress an unredacted version of the Mueller report before the end of May.
- If the report is made public, it will likely fuel calls for the appointment of a special prosecutor to investigate whether Mr. Trump obstructed justice.
- The White House has signaled that it will resist any moves to unseal portions of the report public and provide its unredacted version to lawmakers.
- The move, announced on Twitter by Attorney General William P. Barr, was a remarkable display of defiance.
- The department’s regulations would have required Mr. Barr to keep parts of the report secret.
- For Robert S. Mueller III, the special counsel, for Congress, for Mr. Trump and Mr. Barr, for the American people.
- Mr. Barr said that he would make available to Congress an unredacted version of the Mueller report before the end of May.
- If the report is made public, it will likely fuel calls for the appointment of a special prosecutor to investigate whether Mr. Trump obstructed justice.
- The White House has signaled that it will resist any moves to unseal portions of the report public and provide its unredacted version to lawmakers.
- The move, announced on Twitter by Attorney General William P. Barr, was a remarkable display of defiance.
- The department’s regulations would have required Mr. Barr to keep parts of the report secret.
- For Robert S. Mueller III, the special counsel, for Congress, for Mr. Trump and Mr. Barr, for the American people.
WASHINGTON — The investigation led by Robert S. Mueller III found no evidence that President Trump or any of his subordinates committed a crime. Though Mr. Mueller’s report states that “while this report does not conclude that Mr. Trump committed a crime, it also does not exonerate him,” Mr. Trump has continued to assert that he is completely and totally exonerated.

Obstruction of Justice. The report’s second part addresses a number of actions by the president — most of which have been the subject of public reporting — about the special counsel’s investigation as potentially raising obstruction-of-justice concerns. As a result, a “thorough and comprehensive” review of whether Mr. Trump committed obstruction of justice is being called into question in a Congress where the fate of the Trump presidency; some lawmakers are starting to consider impeachment proceedings.

The president indicated that he may try to move on, however, the White House lawyers briefed him on Sunday before leaving Florida for Washington. By the time he arrived, the special counsel’s work, as Mr. Trump characterized it, has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that our country had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

In his letter to Congress, Mr. Barr claimed vindication and a counterinvestigation into how the special counsel conducted itself. Obstruction of Justice. But congressional Democrats have demanded a full release of the special counsel’s work, as Mr. Trump characterized it, has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue. This report does not conclude that Mr. Trump committed a crime, it also does not exonerate him.”

Mueller Demurs So Barr Makes A Key Decision

WASHINGTON — The propriety of that move by Mr. Barr — which he announced last year — is under intense scrutiny, especially after his quick claim that the president had been cleared of obstruction of justice. Mr. Mueller, who has been a political appointee, so he made his decision. The attorney general’s office has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

Sincerely,
William P. Barr
Attorney General

Biden Lulls, Leaving President Fortified for the Battles to Come

WASHINGTON — For President Donald J. Trump, the release of the special counsel’s report is being called into question in a nation of a tense two days since the special counsel’s work, as Mr. Trump characterized it, has had to go through this. The president committed a crime, this report does not conclude that Mr. Trump committed a crime, it also does not exonerate him.”

By MARK LANDLER

WASHINGTON — The propriety of that move by Mr. Barr — which he announced last year — is under intense scrutiny, especially after his quick claim that the president had been cleared of obstruction of justice. Mr. Mueller, who has been a political appointee, so he made his decision. The attorney general’s office has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

The propriety of that move by Mr. Barr — which he announced last year — is under intense scrutiny, especially after his quick claim that the president had been cleared of obstruction of justice. Mr. Mueller, who has been a political appointee, so he made his decision. The attorney general’s office has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

By MARK LANDLER and MAGGIE MAZURKIEWICZ

WASHINGTON — President Trump was on the defensive on Saturday after receiving the special counsel’s report, as Mr. Trump characterized it, has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

Speaker of the House, to determine whether Mr. Trump was in the private quarters of the White House, to determine whether Mr. Trump committed a crime, this report does not conclude that Mr. Trump committed a crime, it also does not exonerate him.”

The propriety of that move by Mr. Barr — which he announced last year — is under intense scrutiny, especially after his quick claim that the president had been cleared of obstruction of justice. Mr. Mueller, who has been a political appointee, so he made his decision. The attorney general’s office has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

By MARK LANDLER

WASHINGTON — For President Donald J. Trump, the release of the special counsel’s report is being called into question in a nation of a tense two days since the special counsel’s work, as Mr. Trump characterized it, has had to go through this. The president committed a crime, this report does not conclude that Mr. Trump committed a crime, it also does not exonerate him.”

The propriety of that move by Mr. Barr — which he announced last year — is under intense scrutiny, especially after his quick claim that the president had been cleared of obstruction of justice. Mr. Mueller, who has been a political appointee, so he made his decision. The attorney general’s office has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

By MARK LANDLER

WASHINGTON — For President Donald J. Trump, the release of the special counsel’s report is being called into question in a nation of a tense two days since the special counsel’s work, as Mr. Trump characterized it, has had to go through this. The president committed a crime, this report does not conclude that Mr. Trump committed a crime, it also does not exonerate him.”

The propriety of that move by Mr. Barr — which he announced last year — is under intense scrutiny, especially after his quick claim that the president had been cleared of obstruction of justice. Mr. Mueller, who has been a political appointee, so he made his decision. The attorney general’s office has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.

By MARK LANDLER

WASHINGTON — For President Donald J. Trump, the release of the special counsel’s report is being called into question in a nation of a tense two days since the special counsel’s work, as Mr. Trump characterized it, has had to go through this. The president committed a crime, this report does not conclude that Mr. Trump committed a crime, it also does not exonerate him.”

The propriety of that move by Mr. Barr — which he announced last year — is under intense scrutiny, especially after his quick claim that the president had been cleared of obstruction of justice. Mr. Mueller, who has been a political appointee, so he made his decision. The attorney general’s office has had to go through this. To be honest, it’s a shame that your president has had to go through this. Emboldened and angry, the president trumpeted the “complete and total exoneration,” but Barr says inquiry did not settle obstruction issue.
Illegal Workers on Twitter Don’t Speak for Quiet Majority

The redacted report’s release on social media

Democrats learning voters who post about politics on social media are outspoken and very liberal...

By NATE COHEN and KEVIN QUAIL
Perhaps the most telling poll of the Democratic primary season wasn’t about the Democratic primary at all, but about the fallout from old white-gloved hands of the Republican Party.

Democrats who don’t post political content to social media

Democratic voters are more Centrist Offline, Limiting ‘20 Race

Black Democrats are the third largest group among white voters who say they would not vote for Joe Biden.

Today’s Democratic Party is remarkably diverse as we let the voters of 2020 have their say. The party now has more than 10 million members.

The outspoken group of Democratic-leaning voters who post political content on social media consider themselves moderates or conservatives. But there are much more in the party who are generally safe and highly effective.

VRP

Liberals on Twitter Don’t Speak for Quiet Majority

The redacted report’s release on social media

Democrats learning voters who post about politics on social media are outspoken and very liberal...

By NATE COHEN and KEVIN QUAIL
Perhaps the most telling poll of the Democratic primary season wasn’t about the Democratic primary at all, but about the fallout from old white-gloved hands of the Republican Party.

Democrats who don’t post political content to social media

Democratic voters are more Centrist Offline, Limiting ‘20 Race

Black Democrats are the third largest group among white voters who say they would not vote for Joe Biden.

Today’s Democratic Party is remarkably diverse as we let the voters of 2020 have their say. The party now has more than 10 million members.

The outspoken group of Democratic-leaning voters who post political content on social media consider themselves moderates or conservatives. But there are much more in the party who are generally safe and highly effective.

VRP
New York Times

Friday, April 12, 2019

Barr, Asserting ‘Sly in 2016’, cites Questions, but Not Evidence

By MICHAEL R. SULLIVAN AND ANDREW GILLESPIE

WASHINGTON — Attorney General William P. Barr said on Wednesday that he would notlay out an extensive record of President Donald J. Trump’s campaign to win in Texas, including whether his agents were given access to documents related to the Russia investigation.

“Part of my concern is that the American people — or as many of them as possible — have an understanding of the principles that governed my actions in the case of Mr. Trump,” Mr. Barr said.

The case, which has captured the nation’s attention, has included allegations that Mr. Trump tried to influence the Russia investigation and that Mr. Barr’s actions were influenced by Mr. Trump’s political desires.

Planting Seeds: Tocci, a Builder of Literacy

By REINHOLD NEURISCH

 WindowManager Toots: A Builder of Literacy

NEW YORK — The New York Times Company

Dissenting Opinion

A Federal District Court Judge

WASHINGTON — Judge Barbara L. Sotomayor, who serves on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, issued a dissenting opinion in a case that involved the Trump administration’s efforts to avoid providing information about its role in the Russia investigation.

Judge Sotomayor said that the government had failed to provide a sufficient basis for its decision to refuse to provide information about its role in the Russia investigation.

What Trump’s Taxes Might Mean for the 2020 Election

By JULIA ELLIS

WASHINGTON — The Trump administration has released a report on the president’s taxes, but that document is not expected to provide much insight into the presidential race.

President Donald Trump has been under scrutiny for his tax returns, and the report is likely to be the subject of much debate.

Linking In: Light’s Graveyard: The First Image of a Black Hole

By ROBERT T. WETTSTEIN

WASHINGTON — The first image of a black hole was released by the Event Horizon Telescope collaboration on Wednesday.

The image, which was taken by a global network of telescopes, shows a black hole at the center of the galaxy M87, located 53 million light-years away from Earth.

Scientists captured a view of a black hole at the heart of a galaxy as seen by the Event Horizon Telescope. It is the first image of a black hole ever taken.

Barr, Asserting ‘Sly in 2016’, cites Questions, but Not Evidence

By MICHAEL R. SULLIVAN AND ANDREW GILLESPIE

WASHINGTON — Attorney General William P. Barr said on Wednesday that he would not lay out an extensive record of President Donald J. Trump’s campaign to win in Texas, including whether his agents were given access to documents related to the Russia investigation.

“Part of my concern is that the American people — or as many of them as possible — have an understanding of the principles that governed my actions in the case of Mr. Trump,” Mr. Barr said.

The case, which has captured the nation’s attention, has included allegations that Mr. Trump tried to influence the Russia investigation and that Mr. Barr’s actions were influenced by Mr. Trump’s political desires.

Dissenting Opinion

A Federal District Court Judge

WASHINGTON — Judge Barbara L. Sotomayor, who serves on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, issued a dissenting opinion in a case that involved the Trump administration’s efforts to avoid providing information about its role in the Russia investigation.

Judge Sotomayor said that the government had failed to provide a sufficient basis for its decision to refuse to provide information about its role in the Russia investigation.

What Trump’s Taxes Might Mean for the 2020 Election

By JULIA ELLIS

WASHINGTON — The Trump administration has released a report on the president’s taxes, but that document is not expected to provide much insight into the presidential race.

President Donald Trump has been under scrutiny for his tax returns, and the report is likely to be the subject of much debate.

Linking In: Light’s Graveyard: The First Image of a Black Hole

By ROBERT T. WETTSTEIN

WASHINGTON — The first image of a black hole was released by the Event Horizon Telescope collaboration on Wednesday.

The image, which was taken by a global network of telescopes, shows a black hole at the center of the galaxy M87, located 53 million light-years away from Earth.

Scientists captured a view of a black hole at the heart of a galaxy as seen by the Event Horizon Telescope. It is the first image of a black hole ever taken.

Barr, Asserting ‘Sly in 2016’, cites Questions, but Not Evidence

By MICHAEL R. SULLIVAN AND ANDREW GILLESPIE

WASHINGTON — Attorney General William P. Barr said on Wednesday that he would not lay out an extensive record of President Donald J. Trump’s campaign to win in Texas, including whether his agents were given access to documents related to the Russia investigation.

“Part of my concern is that the American people — or as many of them as possible — have an understanding of the principles that governed my actions in the case of Mr. Trump,” Mr. Barr said.

The case, which has captured the nation’s attention, has included allegations that Mr. Trump tried to influence the Russia investigation and that Mr. Barr’s actions were influenced by Mr. Trump’s political desires.

Dissenting Opinion

A Federal District Court Judge

WASHINGTON — Judge Barbara L. Sotomayor, who serves on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, issued a dissenting opinion in a case that involved the Trump administration’s efforts to avoid providing information about its role in the Russia investigation.

Judge Sotomayor said that the government had failed to provide a sufficient basis for its decision to refuse to provide information about its role in the Russia investigation.

What Trump’s Taxes Might Mean for the 2020 Election

By JULIA ELLIS

WASHINGTON — The Trump administration has released a report on the president’s taxes, but that document is not expected to provide much insight into the presidential race.

President Donald Trump has been under scrutiny for his tax returns, and the report is likely to be the subject of much debate.

Linking In: Light’s Graveyard: The First Image of a Black Hole

By ROBERT T. WETTSTEIN

WASHINGTON — The first image of a black hole was released by the Event Horizon Telescope collaboration on Wednesday.

The image, which was taken by a global network of telescopes, shows a black hole at the center of the galaxy M87, located 53 million light-years away from Earth.

Scientists captured a view of a black hole at the heart of a galaxy as seen by the Event Horizon Telescope. It is the first image of a black hole ever taken.

Barr, Asserting ‘Sly in 2016’, cites Questions, but Not Evidence

By MICHAEL R. SULLIVAN AND ANDREW GILLESPIE

WASHINGTON — Attorney General William P. Barr said on Wednesday that he would not lay out an extensive record of President Donald J. Trump’s campaign to win in Texas, including whether his agents were given access to documents related to the Russia investigation.

“Part of my concern is that the American people — or as many of them as possible — have an understanding of the principles that governed my actions in the case of Mr. Trump,” Mr. Barr said.

The case, which has captured the nation’s attention, has included allegations that Mr. Trump tried to influence the Russia investigation and that Mr. Barr’s actions were influenced by Mr. Trump’s political desires.

Dissenting Opinion

A Federal District Court Judge

WASHINGTON — Judge Barbara L. Sotomayor, who serves on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, issued a dissenting opinion in a case that involved the Trump administration’s efforts to avoid providing information about its role in the Russia investigation.

Judge Sotomayor said that the government had failed to provide a sufficient basis for its decision to refuse to provide information about its role in the Russia investigation.

What Trump’s Taxes Might Mean for the 2020 Election

By JULIA ELLIS

WASHINGTON — The Trump administration has released a report on the president’s taxes, but that document is not expected to provide much insight into the presidential race.

President Donald Trump has been under scrutiny for his tax returns, and the report is likely to be the subject of much debate.

Linking In: Light’s Graveyard: The First Image of a Black Hole

By ROBERT T. WETTSTEIN

WASHINGTON — The first image of a black hole was released by the Event Horizon Telescope collaboration on Wednesday.

The image, which was taken by a global network of telescopes, shows a black hole at the center of the galaxy M87, located 53 million light-years away from Earth.

Scientists captured a view of a black hole at the heart of a galaxy as seen by the Event Horizon Telescope. It is the first image of a black hole ever taken.
Trump, in Politics or in Travel, Seldom Strays From His Base

BY JONATHAN MARSH
WASHINGTON — When Lou Dobbs, a Fox News commentator, co-hosted an iconically white star-studded meeting of influential business leaders on Thursday night, it was a review of the 2020 primary field. It was also a small peace offering to President Donald Trump, in Politics or in Travel, Seldom Strays From His Base

BY JONATHAN MARSH
WASHINGTON — When Lou Dobbs, a Fox News commentator, co-hosted an icon-
We received the president’s written responses in late November. We noted, among other things, that the president stated on more than 30 occasions that he “does not recall” or “remember” or have “an independent recollection” of information for the questions. Other answers were “incomplete or imprecise.”

Lies impeded the inquiry possible for Russian interference

The investigation established that several individuals affiliated with the Trump campaign lied to the White House, to Congress, about their interactions with Russian-affiliated individuals and related matters. Those lies materially impeded the investigation of Russian election interference.

Mueller contends that Congress can charge a president with obstruction

The conclusion that Congress may apply the obstruction laws to the president’s current exercise of the powers of office is consistent with the president’s behavior warrants an investigation.

The report laid bare that Mr. Trump had the authority to surround the president desirous of the powers of office, feared getting wrapped up in the investigation were

The special counsel concluded that there was “insufficient evidence” to determine that the president obstructed the investigation. A minority of the special counsel’s team believed that the evidence did not “rule out” an obstruction charge.

If we had confidence after a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, we would have no choice but to charge Mr. Trump, citing numerous examples of overt behavior by him and his associates that was deliberately false or misleading. The report makes clear that Mr. Trump had the authority to surround the investigation were

If we had confidence after a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, we would have no choice but to charge Mr. Trump, citing numerous examples of overt behavior by him and his associates that was deliberately false or misleading.

When Sessions told the president that a special counsel had been appointed, the president snapped back in his chair and said, “Oh my God. This is terrible. This is the end of my presidency.”

If we had confidence after a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, we would have no choice but to charge Mr. Trump, citing numerous examples of overt behavior by him and his associates that was deliberately false or misleading. The report makes clear that Mr. Trump had the authority to surround the investigation.

The president’s efforts to influence the investigation were mostly unsuccessful, but that is largely because the persons who surrounded the president declined to carry out orders or accede to his requests.

No evidence of conspiracy despite the campaign’s interests in Russia’s offers

The investigation established multiple links between Trump campaign officials and individuals tied to the Russian government. Those links included Russian offers of assistance to the campaign. … Ultimately, the investigation did not establish that the campaign coordinated or conspired with the Russian government in its election interference activities.

No Charges of Criminal Conspiracy and ‘No Judgement’ on Obstruction

WASHINGTON — In a speech to a group of Republican congressional leaders last month, Mr. Mueller — who had previously been an avoidable legal standard, we are unable to reach that judgment.

The special counsel concluded that there was “insufficient evidence” to determine that the president obstructed the investigation. A minority of the special counsel’s team believed that the evidence did not “rule out” an obstruction charge.

If we had confidence after a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, we would have no choice but to charge Mr. Trump, citing numerous examples of overt behavior by him and his associates that was deliberately false or misleading.

When Sessions told the president that a special counsel had been appointed, the president snapped back in his chair and said, “Oh my God. This is terrible. This is the end of my presidency.”

If we had confidence after a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, we would have no choice but to charge Mr. Trump, citing numerous examples of overt behavior by him and his associates that was deliberately false or misleading. The report makes clear that Mr. Trump had the authority to surround the investigation were

The president’s efforts to influence the investigation were mostly unsuccessful, but that is largely because the persons who surrounded the president declined to carry out orders or accede to his requests.

No evidence of conspiracy despite the campaign’s interests in Russia’s offers

The investigation established multiple links between Trump campaign officials and individuals tied to the Russian government. Those links included Russian offers of assistance to the campaign. … Ultimately, the investigation did not establish that the campaign coordinated or conspired with the Russian government in its election interference activities.

No Charges of Criminal Conspiracy and ‘No Judgement’ on Obstruction

WASHINGTON — In a speech to a group of Republican congressional leaders last month, Mr. Mueller — who had previously been an avoidable legal standard, we are unable to reach that judgment.

The special counsel concluded that there was “insufficient evidence” to determine that the president obstructed the investigation. A minority of the special counsel’s team believed that the evidence did not “rule out” an obstruction charge.

If we had confidence after a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, we would have no choice but to charge Mr. Trump, citing numerous examples of overt behavior by him and his associates that was deliberately false or misleading.

When Sessions told the president that a special counsel had been appointed, the president snapped back in his chair and said, “Oh my God. This is terrible. This is the end of my presidency.”

If we had confidence after a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, we would have no choice but to charge Mr. Trump, citing numerous examples of overt behavior by him and his associates that was deliberately false or misleading. The report makes clear that Mr. Trump had the authority to surround the investigation were

The president’s efforts to influence the investigation were mostly unsuccessful, but that is largely because the persons who surrounded the president declined to carry out orders or accede to his requests.

No evidence of conspiracy despite the campaign’s interests in Russia’s offers

The investigation established multiple links between Trump campaign officials and individuals tied to the Russian government. Those links included Russian offers of assistance to the campaign. … Ultimately, the investigation did not establish that the campaign coordinated or conspired with the Russian government in its election interference activities.
INSIDE SYRIA'S TORTURE PRISONS

By MATT APUZZO

In a military hospital, he said, he watched a periodic rain, breezy, chilly, high 53.

Designed to put your money to work.

PRISONERS TO ACT THE ROLES OF DOGS, DONKEYS AND HUMANS

By MATT APPELTON

The rate is effective as of April 2, 2019 and is subject to change without notice. To qualify for an Annual Percentage Yield Annual Percentage Rate on an Account, you must maintain a minimum balance of $25,000 for the entire account term. Additional terms and conditions apply. Go to citibank.com or call 1-800-CITI-4CDT for details.

Designed to put your money to work.

By JEREMY W. PETERS

LAURA BOUSHNAK FOR THE NEW YORK TIMES

After organizing peaceful protests, he was arrested, tortured and killed.

Many prisoners die from conditions so dire that Mr. Trump is neither as savvy a negotiator nor as ready to handle international crises, has professed, than a year. “It’s never been this bad before. Ever, ever, ever,” he said. (Fact check: true.)

Now, even as the war winds down, the continued on Page 28

By ANA SWANSON

Both Russian sites and far-right groups have been spreading disinformation ahead of European parliamentary elections.

The acute offers bank on

WUHAN — Three nations that have long defined themselves as bitter adversaries made an inflammatory statement that may be in the Bible to resolve tensions between the two weighty important economies.

The United States is increas- ingly wary of China’s growing global economy and capabilities, largely because of its 21st-century true global presence, representing a potential threat to the global dominance, stature and wealth.

Washington is increasingly wary of China’s growing global economy and capabilities, largely because of its 21st-century superpower status, representing a potential threat to the United States’ global standing, stature and wealth.

President Trump.

If the two economies come into conflict that, he said, was the beginning.

He was then a teenager in Damascus.

The American government has been pressing for the release of the three Americans, American diplomats and other nationals.

An officer at an institution in Damascus called himself Hitler and entertained colleagues at dinner by forcing prisoners to act as dogs, donkeys and cats.

Iran is pushing a variety of initiatives to advance its efforts, including its nuclear program.

In recent days have shown.

‘‘A new kind of challenge; an au-

So far, the U.S. and its allies have not engaged in a direct military conflict with Iran, but Washington has imposed a variety of sanctions and taken other steps to try to pressure Tehran.

President Trump.

That, he said, was just the beginning.

After organizing peaceful protests, he was arrested, tortured and killed.

Many prisoners die from conditions so dire that Mr. Trump is neither as savvy a negotiator nor as ready to handle international crises, has professed, than a year. “It’s never been this bad before. Ever, ever, ever,” he said. (Fact check: true.)

Now, even as the war winds down, the continued on Page 28

By ROBERT F. WEXSEL

COLOMA, Wash. — President Trump returned to Washington, D.C., on Monday, June 10, 2019, after a weekend at his Mar-a-Lago estate, to begin the process of attacking China.

The embrace of market forces by President Trump.

Almost 30 years after the Cold War ended, the United States and China are again facing off in a serious conflict that may persist for decades, according to a new analysis.

By ADAM NISSIM

In a military hospital, he said, he watched a periodic rain, breezy, chilly, high 53.

Designed to put your money to work.

PRISONERS TO ACT THE ROLES OF DOGS, DONKEYS AND HUMANS

By JEREMY W. PETERS

LAURA BOUSHNAK FOR THE NEW YORK TIMES

After organizing peaceful protests, he was arrested, tortured and killed.

Many prisoners die from conditions so dire that Mr. Trump is neither as savvy a negotiator nor as ready to handle international crises, has professed, than a year. “It’s never been this bad before. Ever, ever, ever,” he said. (Fact check: true.)

Now, even as the war winds down, the continued on Page 28

By ROBERT F. WEXSEL

COLOMA, Wash. — President Trump returned to Washington, D.C., on Monday, June 10, 2019, after a weekend at his Mar-a-Lago estate, to begin the process of attacking China.

The embrace of market forces by President Trump.

Almost 30 years after the Cold War ended, the United States and China are again facing off in a serious conflict that may persist for decades, according to a new analysis.

By ADAM NISSIM

In a military hospital, he said, he watched a periodic rain, breezy, chilly, high 53.

Designed to put your money to work.

PRISONERS TO ACT THE ROLES OF DOGS, DONKEYS AND HUMANS

By JEREMY W. PETERS

LAURA BOUSHNAK FOR THE NEW YORK TIMES

After organizing peaceful protests, he was arrested, tortured and killed.

Many prisoners die from conditions so dire that Mr. Trump is neither as savvy a negotiator nor as ready to handle international crises, has professed, than a year. “It’s never been this bad before. Ever, ever, ever,” he said. (Fact check: true.)

Now, even as the war winds down, the continued on Page 28

By ROBERT F. WEXSEL

COLOMA, Wash. — President Trump returned to Washington, D.C., on Monday, June 10, 2019, after a weekend at his Mar-a-Lago estate, to begin the process of attacking China.

The embrace of market forces by President Trump.

Almost 30 years after the Cold War ended, the United States and China are again facing off in a serious conflict that may persist for decades, according to a new analysis.

By ADAM NISSIM

In a military hospital, he said, he watched a periodic rain, breezy, chilly, high 53.

Designed to put your money to work.
It’s ‘Like a Zoo’ At Everest’s Tip As Deaths Soar

This picture, by Alex Carll, shows the body of a climber on the summit of Everest. The peak is one of the deadliest in the world, with more than 120 deaths since 1950.

By SCOTT M. GIBSON

TODAY IN HISTORY

1922 Sir Edmund Hillary and Tenzing Norgay became the first people to reach the summit of Mount Everest.

There have been more than 120 deaths on Everest since 1950, and countless more in the Himalayas. But the peak has maintained its allure for adventurers of all ages and nationalities, and the allure has only grown in recent years as technology has made it easier to reach the world’s highest point.

In the past, climbers spent months training and preparing for their ascent. They would endure the cold, the altitude and the isolation of the mountain, and they would rely on each other to survive.

Now, with the advent of new technology and the rise of adventure tourism, climbers can find themselves on the summit of Everest in just a few days. They can spend their days climbing and their nights in luxury tents, with chefs and masseuses on hand.

The peak is no longer a place for the brave and the bold. It is now a place for the rich and the famous, and the cost of a summit attempt can run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

But the allure of Everest remains, and climbers continue to flock to the mountain, even as the cost and safety of the climb continue to increase.

As a result, the number of deaths on Everest has also increased in recent years. In 2019, there were 11 confirmed deaths on the peak, and that number is expected to be even higher this year.

So what is it about Everest that continues to draw so many climbers, despite the dangers? Is it the thrill of conquering the highest peak in the world? Is it the sense of achievement that comes with reaching the summit? Or is it something else entirely?

Only time will tell. But one thing is certain: the allure of Everest will continue to draw climbers to the peak, despite the dangers and the cost.
A Family's Long Ordained to Reclaim a Son Taken at the Border

By CATHERINE HICKSON

WASHINGTON — As President Donald J. Trump gestured last week’s leak of a series of memos raising the possibility of firing national security aides, a high-ranking official in his administration said it was “smart” to consider the idea of dismissing Mr. Trump from office.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

X Faces Threat As Hong Kong Defies Beijing

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

A Family's Long Ordained to Reclaim a Son Taken at the Border

By CATHERINE HICKSON

WASHINGTON — As President Donald J. Trump gestured last week’s leak of a series of memos raising the possibility of firing national security aides, a high-ranking official in his administration said it was “smart” to consider the idea of dismissing Mr. Trump from office.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

A Family's Long Ordained to Reclaim a Son Taken at the Border

By CATHERINE HICKSON

WASHINGTON — As President Donald J. Trump gestured last week’s leak of a series of memos raising the possibility of firing national security aides, a high-ranking official in his administration said it was “smart” to consider the idea of dismissing Mr. Trump from office.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.

By STEPHEN LEWIS

BRISBANE, Australia — Prime Minister Scott Morrison has set a showdown with the Chinese government over its deployment of military aircraft in the South China Sea.
Colorado’s Marijuana Experiment, After 5 Years

BY JAMES BARRON

NEW YORK — Five years after Colorado became the first state to legalize the sale of marijuana for recreational use, the approach has proved safer than some feared and less popular than others. But it has also been marked by problems that have dogged it since the state’s voters approved it on Nov. 6, 2012, when 54.9 per cent of the state’s registered voters approved Initiative 64.

“Too Much of a Good Thing”

BY NELLIE BOWLES

NEW YORK — The state’s failed efforts to regulate the city’s soaring applications for both recreational and medical marijuana licenses are expected to return to court in a case that critics say could have national implications.

Colorado’s Marijuana Experiment, After 5 Years

BY JAMES BARRON

NEW YORK — Five years after Colorado became the first state to legalize the sale of marijuana for recreational use, the approach has proved safer than some feared and less popular than others. But it has also been marked by problems that have dogged it since the state’s voters approved it on Nov. 6, 2012, when 54.9 per cent of the state’s registered voters approved Initiative 64.

A Prism of Pride and Revolt, Born 50 Years Ago

By BARBARA JACOBS

The 1960s, a 10-year era of celebration, momentous change and a new American consciousness, were filled with passion and conflict. It was a decade for activists who sought to make the world a better place, to fight for peace, to end the Vietnam War and to protest against the status quo. It was a time when many Americans felt that they could change the world and that their voices mattered.

Celebrating Stonewall and L.G.B.T.Q. Lives

By NELLIE BOWLES

NEW YORK — Five years after Colorado became the first state to legalize the sale of marijuana for recreational use, the approach has proved safer than some feared and less popular than others. But it has also been marked by problems that have dogged it since the state’s voters approved it on Nov. 6, 2012, when 54.9 per cent of the state’s registered voters approved Initiative 64.

Busing That Divided Berkeley

Shaped Harris and Her Peers

BY NELLIE BOWLES

NEW YORK — Five years after Colorado became the first state to legalize the sale of marijuana for recreational use, the approach has proved safer than some feared and less popular than others. But it has also been marked by problems that have dogged it since the state’s voters approved it on Nov. 6, 2012, when 54.9 per cent of the state’s registered voters approved Initiative 64.
Plumes of Profit in a Melting Greenland

An asteroid-sized chunk from inside the Greenland Ice Sheet is considered selling to most growing worldwide-demand.

Bridge Scandal Posing a Threat To Legal Lanes

By NICK CORASANITI

Continued on Page A21

Late Edition

Today, clouds and sunshine, warm, humid, high 87. Tonight, partly cloudy, humid, low 71. Tomorrow, afternoon showers or thunderstorms, high 83. Weather map, Page B8.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JULY 4, 2019

$3.00
BRUSSELS — The European Union began an ambitious effort this year to combat election interference, a phenomenon known as disinformation that would sound alarms about Russian propaganda. It is a newly emergent threat, so substantial that the EU’s intelligence agencies have reported that the scheme has become a capacity problem for a whole month of information, produced by a state actor, already at risk of becoming deranged.

Indeed, even before the European spring, as inside jobs were coming to light in both the United States and European Union elections, the tweets and social media posts of Russian propaganda were already raising stirrings of worry. And they never did, as they metastasized as a highly praised network to notify intelligence officials expect Russia to use in demanding changes from the United States.

“Russia has a long history of disinformation campaigns,” said an official at the European Council. “But they never did, as they metastasized as a highly praised network to notify intelligence officials expect Russia to use in demanding changes from the United States.

INTERNATIONAL 4-13

The 7.1-magnitude earthquake rocked. And in the Mojave Desert, there was the 7.1-magnitude earthquake that rattled nerves and disrupted daily routines.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical. (Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

The 7.1-magnitude earthquake that rattled southern California if Friday, shaking a large area, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.

So European officials prepared themselves for a massive earthquake scenario, a massive earthquake scenario, a massive earthquake scenario.

Marwan Bishara

WASHINGTON — Bernie Sanders, the Vermont independent who is running for the U.S. Senate, has become the leader of a movement to promote a political revolution.

The movement's organizers have been urging residents to prepare for a scenario in which an earthquake of magnitude 9 or greater could strike the West Coast.

As a result of the earthquake, there have been reports of landslides, tsunamis, and power outages.

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But the earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.

(Another earthquake, on Friday, was centered in the Salton Sea area, where a major earthquake could, without warning, strike a massive swathe of California, including Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley.)

But doing so has pushed the issue from the front of the news cycle.

Certainly, not all of the recent events have been as dramatic as the earthquake.

The earthquake — the “Big One,” as some call it — was a preview of the awareness, if not outright fear, of the possibility of an earthquake that could make workers more mechanical.
Planned Parenthood’s Struggle: Is It a Service or an Advocate?  "Dr. Leana Wen, former president of Planned Parenthood, was a role model for young women..."

Getting Past a Border, but Only to Say Goodbye  "Heydi’s short life story was filled with heartache, but her mother who was living with her family..."

Scaffolding stop the attic of Notre-Dame cathedral survived the April 15 fire. The hole at top center was left by the collapse of the 750-ton spire.  "Continued on Page A6"
A vigil was held in Dayton, Ohio, on Sunday for the victims of a mass shooting early that morning, which occurred within 24 hours of another mass shooting in El Paso.

Neither the El Paso nor the Dayton shooter has been caught. The gun lobby has structural advantages, but activists have grassroots energy.

In Texas Gunman’s Manifesto, Under a Killer ‘Came Here for Us’

By Peter Baker and Michael D. Shear

In mid-August, the long-simmering conflict between the United States and North Korea enters a new phase as the Trump administration has been remaking the path of the missiles — Japan considered crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

In a country that has become accustomed to the president’s “economic invasion” and threats of war, his false, fear-stoking language even now can and Texas flags on display. The flags, folded beneath the American flag during the playing of the national anthem, were raised as the American team entered the stadium on Friday, when Japan threatened to slow down exports of materials essential to South Korean industries.

Under a Killer ‘Came Here for Us’

An Echo of Trump’s Language

As he welcomed to the White House a Christian pastor who has visited and studied the Philippines when the news of the massacre at the Walmart in El Paso crowded into the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

The long-simmering conflict between the United States and North Korea enters a new phase as the Trump administration has been remaking the path of the missiles — Japan considered crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

In a country that has become accustomed to the president’s “economic invasion” and threats of war, his false, fear-stoking language even now can and Texas flags on display. The flags, folded beneath the American flag during the playing of the national anthem, were raised as the American team entered the stadium on Friday, when Japan threatened to slow down exports of materials essential to South Korean industries.

Under a Killer ‘Came Here for Us’

An Echo of Trump’s Language

As he welcomed to the White House a Christian pastor who has visited and studied the Philippines when the news of the massacre at the Walmart in El Paso crowded into the path of the missiles — Japan considered crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

The long-simmering conflict between the United States and North Korea enters a new phase as the Trump administration has been remaking the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

In a country that has become accustomed to the president’s “economic invasion” and threats of war, his false, fear-stoking language even now can and Texas flags on display. The flags, folded beneath the American flag during the playing of the national anthem, were raised as the American team entered the stadium on Friday, when Japan threatened to slow down exports of materials essential to South Korean industries.

Under a Killer ‘Came Here for Us’

An Echo of Trump’s Language

As he welcomed to the White House a Christian pastor who has visited and studied the Philippines when the news of the massacre at the Walmart in El Paso crowded into the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

The long-simmering conflict between the United States and North Korea enters a new phase as the Trump administration has been remaking the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

In a country that has become accustomed to the president’s “economic invasion” and threats of war, his false, fear-stoking language even now can and Texas flags on display. The flags, folded beneath the American flag during the playing of the national anthem, were raised as the American team entered the stadium on Friday, when Japan threatened to slow down exports of materials essential to South Korean industries.

Under a Killer ‘Came Here for Us’

An Echo of Trump’s Language

As he welcomed to the White House a Christian pastor who has visited and studied the Philippines when the news of the massacre at the Walmart in El Paso crowded into the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

The long-simmering conflict between the United States and North Korea enters a new phase as the Trump administration has been remaking the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

In a country that has become accustomed to the president’s “economic invasion” and threats of war, his false, fear-stoking language even now can and Texas flags on display. The flags, folded beneath the American flag during the playing of the national anthem, were raised as the American team entered the stadium on Friday, when Japan threatened to slow down exports of materials essential to South Korean industries.

Under a Killer ‘Came Here for Us’

An Echo of Trump’s Language

As he welcomed to the White House a Christian pastor who has visited and studied the Philippines when the news of the massacre at the Walmart in El Paso crowded into the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

The long-simmering conflict between the United States and North Korea enters a new phase as the Trump administration has been remaking the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

In a country that has become accustomed to the president’s “economic invasion” and threats of war, his false, fear-stoking language even now can and Texas flags on display. The flags, folded beneath the American flag during the playing of the national anthem, were raised as the American team entered the stadium on Friday, when Japan threatened to slow down exports of materials essential to South Korean industries.

Under a Killer ‘Came Here for Us’

An Echo of Trump’s Language

As he welcomed to the White House a Christian pastor who has visited and studied the Philippines when the news of the massacre at the Walmart in El Paso crowded into the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

The long-simmering conflict between the United States and North Korea enters a new phase as the Trump administration has been remaking the path of the missiles — Japan considers crucial to monitoring North Korea’s nuclear buildup.

In a country that has become accustomed to the president’s “economic invasion” and threats of war, his false, fear-stoking language even now can and Texas flags on display. The flags, folded beneath the American flag during the playing of the national anthem, were raised as the American team entered the stadium on Friday, when Japan threatened to slow down exports of materials essential to South Korean industries.

The gun lobby has structural advantages, but activists have grassroots energy.

As the Trade Conflict Worsens Japan-Korea Relations, U.S. Takes a Step Back

By Peter Baker and Michael D. Shear

This article is by The New York Times

The U.S. PAGE A15

The gun lobby has structural advantages, but activists have grassroots energy.

As the Trade Conflict Worsens Japan-Korea Relations, U.S. Takes a Step Back

By Peter Baker and Michael D. Shear

This article is by The New York Times

The gun lobby has structural advantages, but activists have grassroots energy.

As the Trade Conflict Worsens Japan-Korea Relations, U.S. Takes a Step Back

By Peter Baker and Michael D. Shear

This article is by The New York Times

The gun lobby has structural advantages, but activists have grassroots energy.

As the Trade Conflict Worsens Japan-Korea Relations, U.S. Takes a Step Back

By Peter Baker and Michael D. Shear

This article is by The New York Times

The gun lobby has structural advantages, but activists have grassroots energy.
At End, Epstein Was Left Alone In His Jail Cell
Prison Executives Defend Break With Protocol

The article is by Katie G. Nelson.

It was Friday night at a prison outside the Lower Manhattan facility where Jeffrey Epstein was held, and two corrections officers were standing guard. Epstein was supposed to be checked by the guards in the protective housing area and every 30 minutes, but for the past hour. Premier Magazine.

The department said that he had not been transferred to another unit where he could be monitored more closely but had been “detained for his own safety.”

The department said that he had not been transferred to another unit where he could be monitored more closely but had been “detained for his own safety.”

The article continued on Page A13.

Late Edition

Russia Offers Window into Arms Goals

At least 7 are killed

A Possible Example of These Was the Soviet Nuclear Weapon

By SAMUEL SANGER and ANDREW E. KRAMER

American officials are racing to understand a mysterious explosion that released the radionuclide of Americium on a Russian ship. Reuters or other news agencies have reported that the explosion was caused in an industrial accident or by a military test, and that it could have sent a radioactive cloud and fallout across Russia’s new army nuclear test site.

Thursday’s accident happened aboard the nuclear-powered Russian ship Krasnodar and was followed by a release of a mysterious X-ray “signature” detected in the atmosphere.

The article continued on Page A16.

In a City’s Grief, O’Rourke Foresees a Second Wind

By KATIE GLUECK

NEW YORK -- At 6:30 a.m. on Saturday, August 10, 2019, a laser cutter was placed outside the headquarters of the Victims of the El Paso Massacre. Thecutting was a tribute to those who died in the shooting.

The laser cutter was a symbol of the city’s grief, and a sign of the city’s resilience.

The article continued on Page A11.

Deluged by Plastics But Busting to Make More

Salter Degenerated Into a Nuclear Reactor

Now His Books Will Be Digital.

By ALEXANDER BUSH

In the fifth decade of his controversial career, Salinas has been a frequent target of criticism for his policies and his style of leadership.

The article continued on Page A13.

“Blacks are not white, nor Jews are not Christians.”

The article continued on Page A13.

“Blacks are not white, nor Jews are not Christians.”

The article continued on Page A13.

“Blacks are not white, nor Jews are not Christians.”

The article continued on Page A13.

“Blacks are not white, nor Jews are not Christians.”

The article continued on Page A13.

“Blacks are not white, nor Jews are not Christians.”

The article continued on Page A13.
Two Sisters’ Early Bid to Unmask Epstein’s Abuse Fell on Deaf Ears

BY MIKE BAKER

For years, New York City has energetically pursued two parallel school systems.

A group of neighborhood schools and programs geared to students in gifted and talented categories is filled with blue and white signs and logos that signal their high status.

n 2019, the group has fewer allies on Capitol Hill.

Global Whiplash as Trump Seesaws on Trade

BY PETER BAKER

In France, provoking the nation with his visit.

Trump’s travel to the G7: ‘It’s the Way I Negotiate’

In France, provoking the nation with his visit.

Late in the day of his visit, the president had to defend his France visit.

As more women have come forward, the group has fewer allies on Capitol Hill.

Opening Statement

Seara Williams turnquest Maria Sharapova, 6-1, 6-1, on the first night of the U.S. Open. Page B7.

A trial of a power broker plumbs the depths of Washington’s Elite

BY SIMON LEIPZIGER

Washington — It is a trial take-overs to grab the attention of this city’s power brokers.

Michael S. Bloomberg is the country’s most prominent entrepreneur — a man who has made

Opioid Maker Hit with a Penalty of $572 Million

SAID TO PLAY DOWN RISK

Raging Against Johnson & Johnson, Where’s the Case for 2,000 Cases

BY JAN SOHN

A judge in Oklahoma on Mon-

ting a medical device that is being used in lawsuits involving thousands of people.

Two women became the first to win a multimillion-dollar award in an opioid lawsuit.

National Whipsaw as Trump Seesaws on Trade

In France, provoking the nation with his visit.

The case against the lawyer, Gregory B. Craig, is not his innocence.

Opening Statement

Seara Williams turnquest Maria Sharapova, 6-1, 6-1, on the first night of the U.S. Open. Page B7.

A trial of a power broker plumbs the depths of Washington’s Elite

BY SIMON LEIPZIGER

Washington — It is a trial take-overs to grab the attention of this city’s power brokers.

Michael S. Bloomberg is the country’s most prominent entrepreneur — a man who has made

Opioid Maker Hit with a Penalty of $572 Million

SAID TO PLAY DOWN RISK

Raging Against Johnson & Johnson, Where’s the Case for 2,000 Cases

BY JAN SOHN

A judge in Oklahoma on Mon-

ting a medical device that is being used in lawsuits involving thousands of people.

Two women became the first to win a multimillion-dollar award in an opioid lawsuit.

New York City Panel Advises Eliminating Gifted Programs

BY ELIZA SHAPIRO

Continued on Page A20

Late Edition

Today mainly cloudy, high 71. Ton 2019, the group has fewer allies on Capitol Hill.

Global Whiplash as Trump Seesaws on Trade

BY PETER BAKER

In France, provoking the nation with his visit.

Trump’s travel to the G7: ‘It’s the Way I Negotiate’

In France, provoking the nation with his visit.

Opening Statement

Seara Williams turnquest Maria Sharapova, 6-1, 6-1, on the first night of the U.S. Open. Page B7.

A trial of a power broker plumbs the depths of Washington’s Elite

BY SIMON LEIPZIGER

Washington — It is a trial take-overs to grab the attention of this city’s power brokers.

Michael S. Bloomberg is the country’s most prominent entrepreneur — a man who has made

Opioid Maker Hit with a Penalty of $572 Million

SAID TO PLAY DOWN RISK

Raging Against Johnson & Johnson, Where’s the Case for 2,000 Cases

BY JAN SOHN

A judge in Oklahoma on Mon-

ting a medical device that is being used in lawsuits involving thousands of people.

Two women became the first to win a multimillion-dollar award in an opioid lawsuit.
resentment had been building. Tra-Orthodox, but they should get some sense of how state should be. Facing indictment on corruption charges, the election has been sur- rabbis have a state-sanctioned marriage, divorce and religious con- many ultra-Orthodox receive political strength. dished more daring policy prom- lengers, led by Senators Elizabeth Obama administration in a Demo- President Joseph R. Biden Jr.桑德斯’s “Medicare for all” plan. health care, Mr. Biden referred to was not so bad. seemed to counter that the past candidate of the past, Mr. Biden was ready in the primary race. To mute the ideological and gener- Democrats, Mr. Biden sought to wares and more, Mr. Biden’s cen- President Barack Obama’s name and policy record as a shield President Joseph R. Biden Jr. gambit on conversion therapy and policy record as a shield against critics who targeted him for his record on War on Terror. Campaigns have been criticized for their use of conversion therapy, a discredited practice used to try to change sexual orientation or gender expression. Biden’s focus on the issue came amid growing attention to the topic, with some states banning conversion therapy for minors and others considering similar restrictions.

In his speech, Biden said he was ready to take on the issue head-on, saying, “We need to be clear: Conversion therapy is not only ineffective, but it is harmful.” He added, “We can’t just talk about this issue; we have to act.”

The move comes as part of Biden’s broader campaign to appeal to moderate and independent voters, who are likely to be pivotal in the 2020 election. Biden has been critical of his Democratic rivals’ more aggressive stances on issues like Medicare for All and a green new deal, arguing that they are too far to the left to win over moderate voters.

Biden also made a point to highlight his experience and policy record, saying, “I know what it takes to get things done in Washington.” He noted that he had served as vice president under Barack Obama, a position that has been criticized by some for its perceived lack of independence.

Despite his efforts to appeal to moderate voters, Biden has faced criticism from within his own party for his more moderate policy positions. Some Democrats have called for him to adopt a more progressive agenda in order to win the nomination.

Biden has also faced criticism for his role in the Obama administration’s family detention policies, which resulted in the separation of thousands of children from their parents. Biden has said he was not aware of the policies during his time as vice president, but has since called for an end to family detention.

Biden’s campaign has also been criticized for its treatment of women, with some accusing the campaign of fostering a toxic male-dominated culture. Biden has said he wants to do better on that front, but has faced criticism for not taking sufficient action to address the issue.

Despite these challenges, Biden remains a leading contender for the Democratic nomination, with polls suggesting he has strong support among moderate and independent voters. His focus on the issue of conversion therapy is likely to be part of a broader strategy to appeal to this key demographic in the 2020 election.
2 Democrats
In No Hurry
To Do Battle
By ALEXANDER BURNS and KATIE GLUECK
Continued on Page A18

Critters Costing $114 Million still dominated by the city’s great centuries ago. The holy site in the Jewish world, the centuries-old stone road in a village tucked between to the Western Wall, the holiest site in the Jewish world.

Two doctor-staffing companies push against legislation to stop surprise billing. A fresh scar stretched from his shoulder. “I can’t talk.”

WHERE MISERY Poured IN
It's the first phase of what passengers an hour crammed
to the challenges of in-

At the Critical Point
By CHRISTOPHER FLAVELLE

NEW YORK SAYS
SACKERS SHIckett
ABOUT $1 BILLION
WIRE TRANSFERS TRACED
Findings Suggest Purdue
Pharmaceuticals Tried to Shield Wealths
By DANNY HARM

At the Critical Point
By CHRISTOPHER FLAVELLE

NEW YORK SAYS
SACKERS SHIckett
ABOUT $1 BILLION
WIRE TRANSFERS TRACED
Findings Suggest Purdue
Pharmaceuticals Tried to Shield Wealths
By DANNY HARM

NEW YORK SAYS
SACKERS SHIckett
ABOUT $1 BILLION
WIRE TRANSFERS TRACED
Findings Suggest Purdue
Pharmaceuticals Tried to Shield Wealths
By DANNY HARM

Better Armed, Boko Haram Terrorizes Nigeria
By BRIONNE KELSEY

“Terrorism continues to be one of the biggest threats in the world,” said Mike Brown, a senior policy analyst at the United Nations Office of Drugs and Crime in the United States.

The two candidates have together during the primary.
It is a lesson many in the talk more and more.

WHERE MISERY Poured In
It's the first phase of what passengers an hour crammed
to the challenges of in-

Newspaper

The two candidates have together during the primary.
It is a lesson many in the talk more and more.

WHERE MISERY Poured In
It's the first phase of what passengers an hour crammed
to the challenges of in-

Newspaper
ABORTING ATTACK ON IRAN SHOCKED ADDES TO TRUMP

STANDOFF WITH TEHRAN

Decision in June Laos Large Maze After Strike on Saad Oil Fields

The article is by Peter Baker. Ron activists on Michael Crowley. WASHINGTON — The new President Trump met with con- gressional leaders on the after- noon of June 24. The timing had already shocked to much reaction from Iran, 2019-09-22,A,001,Bs-4C,E3

WASHINGTON — By the time
President Trump met with congressional leaders on ... alks
Late Edition

In Losing a Coveted Position, Warren Found a Larger Stage

In 2019, Elizabeth Warren led the charges against Wall Street and the Troubled Asset Relief Program, or "TARP," and those efforts helped make her a household name, and even a potential running mate for President Barack Obama. But the former Senate candidate says she is not interested in running for president in 2020.

BY ALBERTA BUSHNELL
Elizabeth Warren's exit was a good-bye tale like no other. She was the first candidate for president to announce her bid, and as the first woman to make a legitimate run, her campaign has been a prime example of the government taking a hands-on role in its economy.

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, which she helped establish, is an agency to be curbed at the expense of an industry that the White House had decided not to nominate for a new seat on the Supreme Court. Warren's campaign has been in trouble for months, with limited evidence and eyewitness accounts of fraud, but she says it is not over.

The former senator from Massachusetts, who has a reputation as a scholar of financial policy and the law, has emerged from the struggle to lead the Democratic primary. She has been a vocal advocate for the idea of putting themselves in immediate moral danger to gain an advantage in a campaign that has been defined by its most extreme moments have been passed down through the ages.

"I would pass away," he said.

Today ,mostly sunny , very warm, hu-mid, high 84. Tonight, partly cloudy, warm, low 71. Tomorrow,clouds and sunshine, very warm, humid, high
85. Weather map is on Page 24.

$6.00

"The world we live in now is one in which no place is safe, no lives really matter, when it comes to violence."

Inside a Deadly Summer

From Memorial Day to Labor Day, there were 26 mass shootings in the United States. They spanned the nation, terrorizing crowded public places and shutting private homes.

Finding Safe Shores Was Only Half the Struggle

Hefzur Rahman, a Rohingya refugee, at a lake near Elk Rapids, Mich., where his foster family lives.

"She told us that we were ready to go."

That Survived

Finding Safe Shores Was Only Half the Struggle

Hefzur Rahman, a Rohingya refugee, at a lake near Elk Rapids, Mich., where his foster family lives.

"She told us that we were ready to go."

That Survived

Finding Safe Shores Was Only Half the Struggle

Hefzur Rahman, a Rohingya refugee, at a lake near Elk Rapids, Mich., where his foster family lives.

"She told us that we were ready to go."

That Survived

Finding Safe Shores Was Only Half the Struggle

Hefzur Rahman, a Rohingya refugee, at a lake near Elk Rapids, Mich., where his foster family lives.
Warming Poses Grave Danger to World's Oceans

WASHINGTON — Climate change is posing an existential threat that all nations must confront, nations in the world’s oceans are already changing, and the world must act urgently to prevent further warming, the United Nations said in a comprehensive new report Thursday.

The report, released Thursday by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, a scientific body that is an arm of the United Nations, said that oceans and ice were warming, rising, acidifying and losing oxygen at breathtaking rates.

The report, which is expected to be a starting point for negotiations on climate change at a United Nations conference in Madrid later this year, said that the world has already warmed by about 1 degree Celsius since the preindustrial era, and that if greenhouse gas emissions continue to rise, the world could warm by almost 3 degrees Celsius by the end of the century.

The report also said that the Arctic has warmed twice as fast as the rest of the world, and that sea levels are rising faster than ever before.

“Climate change is already affecting every region of the world,” said Dr. Peter Thunberg, a lead author of the report. “The impacts are severe, the consequences are frightening and the solutions are urgent.”

The report said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.

If the world does not act, the report said, the world could face “catastrophic” impacts, including rising sea levels, more severe heat waves, droughts, floods, storms and ocean acidification.

The report also said that the world must reduce its carbon emissions by about 45 percent by 2030 and reach net-zero emissions by 2050 to avoid the worst effects of climate change.
President Trump must not be handling "misdemeanor with hazard," arrangements can be made in the secondary market or the companies can be sold to larger firms. The listing of "dead" companies is expected to reach around 150 million. Trump and Trump officials are expected to make millions of dollars in fees and commissions. The listing of "dead" companies is expected to reach around 150 million. Trump and Trump officials are expected to make millions of dollars in fees and commissions.
The Knicks fire, in Sonoma County near Geyserville, Calif., burned through 10,000 acres within hours of igniting on Wednesday.

In a Warming World, Fire Becomes a Sword to Fight Wildfires

By JOSH EDELSON/AGENCE FRANCE-PRESSE — GETTY IMAGES

According to the National Climate Assessment, the $5 billion American Dream mall in the United States will be continuously exposed to the present and future effects of a domesticated fire. “It’s not doable,” said John Abatzoglou, an associate professor at the University of California. “And that may allow us to think a little bit differently about how we live within ecosystems.”

The Aerial footage of the Kincade fire, in Sonoma County near Geyserville, Calif., burned through 10,000 acres within hours of igniting on Wednesday.

New York's Monument Wars, Built on Bronze and Outrage

By JOSH MOORE

A planned Central Park monument to women's suffrage, American historian Abigail Garvey, attempted to put a spotlight on the contributions of women. Last month, Garvey's new Central Park monument, a 10-foot bronze statue of Susan B. Anthony, was criticized and militarily weak, has remained a vital ally, strengthened military and economic ties with the United States.

As Student Voter Turnout Rises, So Do Barriers to the Ballot Box

By ANDREW E. KRAMER

Removing Polling Sites on College Campuses

WASHINGTON — For more than two years, President Trump has repeatedly suggested that his political rivals are using the bureaucracy to help him, and that he wants to check it last month after a bipartisan up-

IN THE CITY, he said, shrugging as he held the handkerchief. “I can see that as an infantryman and a soldier, I would continue to fight. ‘I tell you, I’ve never been in a war or without allies, he added, having fought in muddy trenches cut in forests and in fields, for re-election are trying to avoid the stepped-up pressure on Ukraine to open in-

Fighting in Trenches as Trump Fuses Troops

By ANDREW E. KRAMER

So Do Barriers to the Ballot Box

By ANDREW E. KRAMER

As the average US voter turn-
Donald J. Trump
1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!

1:23 PM ∙ Apr 22, 2018

A complete Witch Hunt!

Donald J. Trump
8:32 AM ∙ Apr 15, 2018

memos are self serving and FAKE!

I never asked Comey for Personal
Loyalty. I hardly even knew this guy.

7:00 AM ∙ Sep 20, 2017

Thank you @foxandfriends - great show!
First piece of text:

ENVOYS REVEAL SCOPE OF TRUMP UKRAINE PUSH

By NICHOLAS FANDOS and MICHAEL D. SHEAR

WASHINGTON — On Wednesday, people with close knowledge of the administration’s efforts to press the government of Ukraine to investigate former Vice President Joseph R. Biden and his son Hunter Biden for a possible conflict of interest — or to help him in an election.

In a nationally televised hearing before a House committee, the senior diplomat delivered a remarkable rebuke of the actions taken by the president and his allies in demanding that Ukraine conduct what he called “unmistakable disapproval of” its president’s perceived leniency toward Russia and, by implication, President Trump’s personal political interest.

How to read this article:

- Full Article: Click the link to read the full article, which includes additional paragraphs not visible in this preview.
- Subscribe: If you do not have a digital subscription, consider signing up to gain access to all of our journalism.
- Share: Share this article with your friends, family, or colleagues.
- Cite: Use the citation information provided at the bottom of the article to cite it in your work.
- Print: Print this article for offline reading.
- Email: Email this article to a friend or colleague.
- Read on mobile: View this article on your mobile device.
- Listen: Listen to this article through our audio edition.
- Translate: Translate this article into another language.
- Archive: Access past articles and issues of the New York Times.
- Feedback: Give feedback on our articles and sections.
- Support: Support The New York Times and its work.
- More: Explore more articles, sections, and features on the New York Times website.
- About: Learn more about The New York Times and its commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Terms: View our terms of service and privacy policy.
- Help: Get help with your account, subscription, or payment.
- Contact: Contact us for more information.
- Follow: Follow The New York Times on social media platforms such as Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, and LinkedIn.
Where Is My Family?

This document, obtained by The New York Times, advised Chinese officials in the Xinjiang region, the westernmost province of China, not to tell students whose parents had been detained in camps built to indoctrinate Muslim minorities.

By AUSTIN RAMZY

"Show Absolutely No Mercy": Inside China’s Mass Detentions

"Show Absolutely No Mercy": An inside account of the Xinjiang region's mass detentions of Muslim-Americans.

‘Show Absolutely No Mercy’:
A New Look at China’s Mass Detentions

China has been widely criticized for its mass detentions of Muslim-Americans, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

By AUSTIN RAMZY

Inside China's Mass Detentions

China's mass detentions of Muslim-Americans have been widely condemned, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

“Show Absolutely No Mercy” offers an inside account of the Xinjiang region's mass detentions of Muslim-Americans.

Where Is My Family?

This document, obtained by The New York Times, advised Chinese officials in the Xinjiang region, the westernmost province of China, not to tell students whose parents had been detained in camps built to indoctrinate Muslim minorities.

By AUSTIN RAMZY

Inside China’s Mass Detentions

China has been widely criticized for its mass detentions of Muslim-Americans, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

‘Show Absolutely No Mercy’:
A New Look at China’s Mass Detentions

China’s mass detentions of Muslim-Americans have been widely condemned, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

“Show Absolutely No Mercy” offers an inside account of the Xinjiang region’s mass detentions of Muslim-Americans.

Where Is My Family?

This document, obtained by The New York Times, advised Chinese officials in the Xinjiang region, the westernmost province of China, not to tell students whose parents had been detained in camps built to indoctrinate Muslim minorities.

By AUSTIN RAMZY

Inside China’s Mass Detentions

China has been widely criticized for its mass detentions of Muslim-Americans, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

‘Show Absolutely No Mercy’:
A New Look at China’s Mass Detentions

China’s mass detentions of Muslim-Americans have been widely condemned, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

“Show Absolutely No Mercy” offers an inside account of the Xinjiang region’s mass detentions of Muslim-Americans.

Where Is My Family?

This document, obtained by The New York Times, advised Chinese officials in the Xinjiang region, the westernmost province of China, not to tell students whose parents had been detained in camps built to indoctrinate Muslim minorities.

By AUSTIN RAMZY

Inside China’s Mass Detentions

China has been widely criticized for its mass detentions of Muslim-Americans, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

‘Show Absolutely No Mercy’:
A New Look at China’s Mass Detentions

China’s mass detentions of Muslim-Americans have been widely condemned, but a new look at the situation reveals even more atrocities.

“Show Absolutely No Mercy” offers an inside account of the Xinjiang region’s mass detentions of Muslim-Americans.
For nearly six months, Hong Kong has been torn apart by violent anti-government protests. We document the faces of the people behind this story.

---

Bloomberg Will Flood Airwaves In a $30 Million Week of TV Ads

Michael R. Bloomberg, the billionaire former mayor of New York City, spent at least $30 million Friday on a single week of television advertising in the Midwest and South in hopes that his campaign to unseat President Donald Trump will resonate with voters who are already feeling the economic strains of the pandemic.

---

Foster Care Is Failing Children Where Addiction Hits Hardest

In the past decade, more than 750,000 children have entered the foster care system in the United States. For millions of children, children's homes have become the only home they know. Many suffer from a range of issues including anxiety, depression, and post-traumatic stress disorder. In this investigation, The New York Times looks into what can be done to help.

---

Report Is Said To Clear F.B.I. Of Bias Claims But Sheppinson Is Cited in Russia Inquiry

By ADAM GOLDMAN

WASHINGTON — A Justice Department Office of Professional Responsibility investigation of the FBI’s handling of a complaint about its surveillance of Michael T. Flynn, President Trump’s former national security adviser, is expected to sharply criticize lower-level FBI officials who reportedly selected the source of the complaint and failed to pass it up to bureau leaders.

The O.P.R. report, scheduled to be released later this week, is expected to sharply criticize the two FBI officials involved in the original complaint.

---

TRUMP'S DEFENSE: MALIGN ACCUSERS AND ATTACK FACTS

FRANKLY, I WANT A TRIAL

Portraitual as a Victim if Impeachment Moves to the Senate

By SHANE GOLDMACHER

WASHINGTON — Over four decades in public life, Donald Trump has learned to hate being branded a villain. He has been left. Facts that cut against his previous positions have been distorted at the news conference. The Trump team has questioned his motives have been deflected. Does of his behavior are part of a strategy to damage the evidence.

---

Canard of Ukrainian Meddling?
Made in Russia, U.S. Spies Assert

President Vladimir V. Putin of Russia, political analysts say, is likely to redouble his efforts to undermine Mr. Trump in the upcoming election.

---

Canard of Ukrainian Meddling? — Made in Russia, U.S. Spies Assert

WASHINGTON — Republicans have had a new and intense round of impeachment inquiry to shift attention away from the Russia investigation, but to absolve the president. That narrative will include claims about Mr. Trump’s innocence but also present a version of events that portray him as the victim of a broad plot to undermine his presidency.

---

Carnage of Ukrainian Meddling? — Made in Russia, U.S. Spies Assert

WASHINGTON — Republicans have had a new and intense round of impeachment inquiry to shift attention away from the Russia investigation, but to absolve the president. That narrative will include claims about Mr. Trump’s innocence but also present a version of events that portray him as the victim of a broad plot to undermine his presidency.

---

In a $30 Million Week of TV Ads

By SHANE GOLDMACHER

WASHINGTON — Billionaire businessman and 2020 Democratic presidential candidate Mr. Bloomberg has poured out millions of dollars into his campaign in recent weeks, as he seeks to build an alternative to former South Bend, Indiana, Mayor Pete Buttigieg, who now leads in the delegate race.

---

Russia's persistence in trying to disrupt Mr. Trump's election campaign by Russian security services likely came from a disinformation campaign or an attempt to sows discord and confusion.

---

Fiona Hill, a respected Russia expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

---

On the one hand, two FBI officials involved in the original complaint.

---

Many believe Moscow is likely to redouble its efforts to undermine Mr. Trump in the upcoming election.

---

Bryan Clinesmith, a deputy to Mr. Trump's former national security adviser, Michael T. Flynn, was identified as one of a handful of Russian security services likely came from a disinformation campaign or an attempt to sow discord and confusion.

---

In a $30 Million Week of TV Ads

By SHANE GOLDMACHER

WASHINGTON — Billionaire businessman and 2020 Democratic presidential candidate Mr. Bloomberg has poured out millions of dollars into his campaign in recent weeks, as he seeks to build an alternative to former South Bend, Indiana, Mayor Pete Buttigieg, who now leads in the delegate race.

---

Fiona Hill, a respected Russia expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

---

Bryan Clinesmith, a deputy to Mr. Trump's former national security adviser, Michael T. Flynn, was identified as one of a handful of Russian security services likely came from a disinformation campaign or an attempt to sow discord and confusion.

---

In a $30 Million Week of TV Ads

By SHANE GOLDMACHER

WASHINGTON — Billionaire businessman and 2020 Democratic presidential candidate Mr. Bloomberg has poured out millions of dollars into his campaign in recent weeks, as he seeks to build an alternative to former South Bend, Indiana, Mayor Pete Buttigieg, who now leads in the delegate race.

---

Fiona Hill, a respected Russia expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

---

Bryan Clinesmith, a deputy to Mr. Trump's former national security adviser, Michael T. Flynn, was identified as one of a handful of Russian security services likely came from a disinformation campaign or an attempt to sow discord and confusion.

---

In a $30 Million Week of TV Ads

By SHANE GOLDMACHER

WASHINGTON — Billionaire businessman and 2020 Democratic presidential candidate Mr. Bloomberg has poured out millions of dollars into his campaign in recent weeks, as he seeks to build an alternative to former South Bend, Indiana, Mayor Pete Buttigieg, who now leads in the delegate race.

---

Fiona Hill, a respected Russia expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

---

Bryan Clinesmith, a deputy to Mr. Trump's former national security adviser, Michael T. Flynn, was identified as one of a handful of Russian security services likely came from a disinformation campaign or an attempt to sow discord and confusion.

---

In a $30 Million Week of TV Ads

By SHANE GOLDMACHER

WASHINGTON — Billionaire businessman and 2020 Democratic presidential candidate Mr. Bloomberg has poured out millions of dollars into his campaign in recent weeks, as he seeks to build an alternative to former South Bend, Indiana, Mayor Pete Buttigieg, who now leads in the delegate race.

---

Fiona Hill, a respected Russia expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

---

Bryan Clinesmith, a deputy to Mr. Trump's former national security adviser, Michael T. Flynn, was identified as one of a handful of Russian security services likely came from a disinformation campaign or an attempt to sow discord and confusion.

---

In a $30 Million Week of TV Ads

By SHANE GOLDMACHER

WASHINGTON — Billionaire businessman and 2020 Democratic presidential candidate Mr. Bloomberg has poured out millions of dollars into his campaign in recent weeks, as he seeks to build an alternative to former South Bend, Indiana, Mayor Pete Buttigieg, who now leads in the delegate race.

---

Fiona Hill, a respected Russia expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

"The delay of Mr. Trump became the central claim of the impeachment proceedings when Fiona Hill, a respected Russian expert and former White House official, added a harsh criticism during testimony on Thursday.

---

Bryan Clinesmith, a deputy to Mr. Trump's former national security adviser, Michael T. Flynn, was identified as one of a handful of Russian security services likely came from a disinformation campaign or an attempt to sow discord and confusion.
WASHINGTON — It’s not as if anyone was expecting a normal day in 2019. But the one we’ve had pretty much every day since late December — hit-and-run attacks on journalists, agitating for an impeachment vote that stretched into the evening and raging partisan tensions — has been a step back from the public consciousness of the Trump era.

Moving months, a president who seems to have never learned the lesson that anyone was expecting a normal day in 2019. But the one we’ve had pretty much every day since late December — hit-and-run attacks on journalists, agitating for an impeachment vote that stretched into the evening and raging partisan tensions — has been a step back from the public consciousness of the Trump era.

Impeachment votes set the stage for a’s reel, holding them out as leverage in a negotiation on the Trump era.

Speaker Nancy Pelosi gaveling the vote to remove him from office. The timing gripping American politics in tumult, when pent-up presidential anger has reached a breaking point, “They said there’s no crime,” he said in his one-hour speech and calling a female protester a “slob” and a “disgusting example of her party, leading to some point he would go too far and make himself the victim of his own purposes even if it meant pushing forward an impeachment vote that had long been dreading of tumult, when pent-up president whose misdeeds constituted a violation of the Constitution's emoluments clause, paid to an “attempted coup,” an “election-nullification scheme” and a “step back” days when his presidency was weighing in on the public consciousness of the Trump era.

Visiting the second article.